

Messaging

Persysent® Software Messaging

Messaging

Fast Elevator

Persysent® Software ensures that your PC is always available and fully functional – even if you’re offsite. We have the fastest automated PC recovery product on the market.

Medium Elevator

Persysent® Software ensures that your PC is always available and fully functional – even if you’re offsite. We have the fastest automated PC recovery product on the market. If a downloaded virus corrupts your OS or applications, it restores in less than 30 seconds, just by hitting reboot.

Slow Elevator

Persysent® Software ensures that your PC is always available and fully functional – even if you’re offsite. We have the fastest automated PC recovery product on the market. If a downloaded virus corrupts your OS or applications, it restores in less than 30 seconds, just by hitting reboot. We are best at helping companies with limited IT staff that still require 24/7 business uptime.

Short Description - 100 word descriptor

Persysent® Software solutions ensure that end-user desktop and laptop computers are always available and fully functional – whether in the office or offsite.

Persysent Software developed the only automated PC recovery product on the market with unsurpassed speed, restoring application and operating system (OS) files that are corrupted, changed, or missing, in less than 30 seconds.

Founded in 2002, Persysent Software solutions have been instrumental to organizations across North America including government, health care and education sectors with limited resources to support a high ratio of employees to IT staff and 24/7 business uptime.

For more information on Persysent Software and its solutions, visit: www.persysent.com.

Long Messaging-250 words: Media Release Boilerplate

Persysent® Software solutions ensure that end-user desktop and laptop computers are always available and fully functional – whether in the office or offsite.

When computers are down, so is business productivity, therefore Persysent Software developed the only automated PC recovery product on the market with unsurpassed speed, restoring application and operating system (OS) files that are corrupted, changed, or missing, in less than 30 seconds.

Unlike any other disaster recovery provider, Persysent Software offers the only solution that restores degraded systems to a working state whether the PC is on or off the network, and even if the OS cannot engage.

Nothing, including viruses, malware or other unauthorized programs can stop a Persysent PC from returning to its desired configuration. By simply rebooting the system, either automatically or on demand, Persysent Software eliminates the need for manual PC reimaging while preserving user data and settings during the restoration process.

In addition to keeping end users productive, Persysent Software enables IT staffs to control PC damage, reduce help desk calls, enforce compliance, and improve the success rate of software patches and updates. Additional benefits include energy savings through reduced PC power consumption via an automatic shutdown feature.

Founded in 2002, Persysent Software solutions have been instrumental to organizations across North America including government, health care and education sectors with limited resources to support a high ratio of employees to IT staff and 24/7 business uptime.

For more information on Persysent Software and its solutions, visit: www.persysent.com.

Persyistent® Software Messaging

Messaging - Verticals

Government

Persyistent® Software enables federal government-based IT organizations to automate compliance with the Federal Desktop Core Configuration rules. For state and local government IT departments managing mobile computers and desktop units, Persyistent Software ensures that PC's are always work-ready , no matter where or when they work.

Healthcare

For health care organizations that deliver PC-dependent life-saving procedures, Persyistent® Software offers on-demand PC recovery and restoration in healthcare environments that can't afford to be shut down.

Education

For educational institutions with shared PCs in classrooms and training labs, Persyistent® Software ensures that students and employees have a clean, work-ready PC station upon every reboot, regardless of any misuse or mistakes that might corrupt the OS or applications.